Jacques Ballard is based in Paris, France. Jacques has always been fascinated by light, colour and composition. He has shot over a dozen of documentaries, over 150 commercials around the world and is used to work on projects with lots of special effects. He also loves to work on drama projects. The first feature he lensed « Noor » was selected in more than 20 festivals worldwide, one of them being at the Cannes Films Festival, (ACID program), won several international prizes. Jacques is also specialised in Underwater cinematography. He shot, in 2020, the feature movie « The Deep House » directed by Julien Maury and Alexandre Bustillo, produced by Radar Films, starring Camille Rowe and James Jagger.
